

PRICE ONE CENT.

NEW YORK, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1889.

PRICE ONE CENT.

EXTRA ALL THE LATEST NEWS HE WILL BE THERE.

Sullivan Training Lightly for His Coming Battle.

Kilrain Won't Hurt Any One When John Is Done with Him.

So Jack Hayes Tells an "Evening World" Correspondent.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

BOSTON, Feb. 5.—Now that the terms of the Sullivan-Kilrain fight have been arranged, the all-absorbing question is: "Where will they fight?"

Several cities are making strenuous efforts to secure the honor of having the fight take place in their vicinity.

A telegram was received at the Globe office today for Sullivan from New Orleans.

It was from Burt Galvin and Jack Curry and other sports. They urged John to go in training in New Orleans, where "everybody is his friend."

Jack Hayes, the champion's trainer, says New Orleans is the favored spot. Mr. Hayes was seen by THE EVENING WORLD correspondent this forenoon.

"We shall go to New Orleans to train," he said. "That point has already been decided."

"When will you go?"

"About the first of April."

"You are satisfied with the facilities afforded for training at that place?"

"Yes, I think they are as good as any that can be secured in the country."

"Who will go with Mr. Sullivan?"

"There will be two of us. I shall be one. The other has not been determined upon yet. Probably it will be Jack Dempsey. Barnum will have charge of his affairs. I think he will probably be located in New York until the fight."

"Is Mr. Sullivan doing any training now?"

"Yes, sir, every day."

"Will you please tell me what the training consists of?"

"Certainly. We start out together from his home at No. 8 Parnell street and take a long walk every morning. These walks average from twelve to fifteen miles. We take different roads each day to give us a change of scenery. One day we start from his home at 3.30 o'clock and go out through Dorchester over Savin Hill. Then cut across the sand hills of Dorchester Bay—fine walking for a man in training. There we go through South Boston by way of Dorchester Avenue to Blythe Gookin's home."

"There Sullivan strips and is rubbed down. After this he is put to bed and sleeps three hours. About 2 o'clock he comes downtown and spends the rest of the day at Tom Hagerty's and M. T. Clarke's in company with Barnum and myself."

"We vary the walks by going in another direction every other day. Sometimes we go out through the Highlands to Brighton, and stop for a bottle of Bass's ale at the Hawthorn."

"Does he do any sparring?"

"How about his count?"

"He puts in from fifteen to twenty-five minutes at this twice a day."

"He's a mighty good trainer," said Joe Lannon as he stood leaning against the counter, not much the worse in appearance for his battle last night.

"Does Mr. Sullivan drink anything now besides the ale?"

"No, not a thing. He gets away with a bottle of that each day and sometimes two bottles, according to the way he is doing."

"How about his count?"

"It is prime—eleven."

"What is his weight?"

"Two hundred and fifteen pounds. He has trained down eight pounds in the past two weeks you see. His general is excellent."

"He goes to bed every night at 9 o'clock and is up time for his morning walk. He lives on hearty food—broth, eggs, etc. etc. He is not dieting yet."

"By the way Mr. Hayes, where will the fight probably take place?"

"I see that Kilrain has offered to fight Jim Smith, either before or after the Sullivan fight. What do you think about that?"

"It can't be done. Kilrain can't fight any one before he meets Sullivan, and afterwards there won't be enough left of him to give Smith or any one else a fight. Kilrain is under contract for the Sullivan fight, and he won't meet Smith before that without breaking his word."

"Mr. Hayes, Mr. Lummy and the champion leave this evening for New York."

ABOUT BASEBALL.

Kelly Will Ask the Trifurcate Where He Will Stand Next Season.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

BOSTON, Feb. 5.—Michael J. Kelly, actor, humorist and ball-player, arrived in the city last evening.

He looked the picture of a well-fed athlete as he shook hands with several of his friends.

A committee from the Boston Order of Elks escorted Mike to their rooms on Hayward Place.

Michael said that he came to Boston at the invitation of J. M. Hill to attend the testimonial in that gentleman's honor at his new establishment.

"Kelly" said he would call on his triumphant to-day and try to have them define his position for next season, as he had been honored under the impression since last fall, that he was to be captain of the team next season.

"I cannot undertake," said Kelly, "why the gentlemen who made these promises have since changed their mind."

"Mike feels sure he should land the present aggregation of players in the first place if he had control of the men on the field next season."

"You see," he said, "it goes against the grain with me to play in a team not in the first place, but I think we will get there next season. We have a lot of men who can hit the ball, and some great hitters. The latter place the public will win games for us."

Hearing Signs with Baltimore.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

BOSTON, Feb. 5.—Joe Hornung yesterday accepted the terms of Manager Billy Barnie, of the Baltimore Club, to go to that city.

Hornung said yesterday: "I think that I will be very much pleased with Baltimore. It will be to be once more in a team with Ed 'ate, who I think will prove to be one of the best catchers that the club has had in many a year. I intend to make Boston my home in the past. My family will remain here during the summer and I will join them at the close of the season."

THE FUNERAL.

Austria's Crown Prince Laid Away at Rest.

A Gloom Settles Over the Community.

The Services Were Plain and Unostentatious.

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION.)

VIENNA, Feb. 5.—The funeral of the Crown Prince took place this afternoon.

All the honors befitting the exalted rank of the deceased were paid.

But there was no extraordinary display of funeral pomp.

Requiem mass was said at the Capuziner Church, which was filled with the dignitaries of the Court and State.

The Emperor knelt alone at the foot of the catafalque.

Behind and around him were a number of archdukes and other members of the Imperial family.

To them succeeded Ministers and high officers of the State, army and navy.

The rest of the congregation consisted of the Imperial household, the Burgomasters of Vienna and Pesth, and members of the corporations in their robes shrouded with mourning.

The Diplomatic Corps numbered seventy-five, and a few representatives of the home and foreign press.

The religious ceremonies were the only elaborate feature of the funeral.

All the rest, in accordance with the Emperor's desire, was comparatively simple.

The procession was preceded by troops and bands with muffled drums, and included, in due order, all the people within the church.

It began to move at 4 o'clock.

The streets through which it passed were crowded with mourning spectators from curb to curb.

The painful silence of the vast crowds was broken only by half-suppressed sobs.

Intense emotion was manifested everywhere.

The Empress, having taken a last look at her son in the morning, when the coffin was closed forever, did not attend the funeral.

With the Crown Princess Stephanie and the Princesses Gesela and Valerie, she remained at prayer in the chapel of the Hofburg.

CROWN PRINCE RUDOLPH'S LAST LETTER.

"I Can Live No Longer"—Come and Fulfill Your Trust.—The Letter Not Dated.

(BY CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION.)

BUDA-PESTH, Feb. 5.—The last letter addressed by the Crown Prince Rudolph to Herr von Szoegenyi, an attaché of the Imperial household, to whom he had intrusted the arrangement of his papers, is published here.

It has no date, but bears the evidence of having been recently written.

In it the Crown Prince reminds his correspondent of his trust, and urges him to come and fulfill it, and adds: "I can live no longer."

THE RUSH TO VIEW HIS REMAINS.

One Woman Killed and Twenty-Five Injured.

(BY CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION.)

VIENNA, Feb. 5.—Enormous crowds are still gathered in the streets adjacent to the church where the remains of the Crown Prince lie in state.

The pressure to see them is as great as ever, but the police and troops hold the masses in check, and no such disaster as that of yesterday evening has been repeated. In the crush last night one woman was killed and twenty-five persons, as far as known, are injured.

For Commenting on His Death.

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

VIENNA, Feb. 5.—Two men who were commenting on the rumor, that Crown Prince Rudolph met his death at the hands of the husband of the woman he had betrayed, were arrested in the Graetz-to-day. Several other arrests have been made for the same cause.

KILBRIDE'S ARREST.

Balfour Seizes Such Opportunities to Show Arbitrary Power.

(BY CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION.)

LONDON, Feb. 5.—The circumstances of the arrest of Mr. Kilbride, M. P., were similar to those in the case of Mr. O'Brien.

It would appear to be the intention of Secretary Balfour to make these instances of the exercise of arbitrary power as conspicuous as possible.

Mr. Kilbride had been summoned to answer to charges under the Crimes act, and refused to pay any attention to the summons.

His arrest was awaited until an opportune time arrived. The officers thought it had come last night.

After making a speech that was cheered to the echo word was sent that the officers awaited him outside.

He was escorted from the hall by four Liberal magistrates, and against their protests he was taken in custody.

Indignation at Kilbride's Arrest.

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

DUBLIN, Feb. 5.—The indignation over the arrest of Dennis Kilbride, M. P., after his speech at the banquet tendered him at Leicester last evening, has not subsided. It is more general to-day. Many of his friends did not hear of it until this morning.

Wonders of the French Cook's Art.

The French cooks are giving an exhibition this afternoon of the ornamental pieces of pastry and confectionery which will grace the supper tables at their Twenty-third annual ball at the Metropolitan Opera-House to-night. The pieces are even more elaborate than usual, and the ball promises to surpass all its predecessors in brilliancy. Among the marvelous works of the accomplished artists having the matter in charge are Turkish mosques, Chinese pavilions, the village of Cornville, Paul and Virginia, the pavilion of Minerva, and other tableaux and designs of surpassing beauty and delicacy.

THEIR NEW HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Will Dwell in the Gerlach.

Dan Lamont Has Been Here Making Arrangements.

An Exquisite Suite of Rooms Now Under Consideration.

The Gerlach has been selected as the residence of ex-President Cleveland and wife on the occasion of their coming to New York city, March 5 next.

The Gerlach is the handsome ten-story family hotel recently erected in Twenty-seventh street, between Broadway and Sixth Avenue, by Charles A. Gerlach, and is the place of residence of many of the best known people in the city.

On the occasion of Private Secretary Lamont's visit to the city he applied to E. S. Stokes, of the Hoffman House, with reference to securing a residence for Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland and was referred to Mr. Gerlach.

Mr. Gerlach furnished Col. Lamont with a plan of several suites of rooms, which will be at the disposal of the ex-President and his beautiful wife, and it is not improbable that one of his propositions will be accepted.

The suits proposed are on the third and fourth floors and consist of a spacious parlor fronting on Twenty-seventh street, a boudoir adjoining, with bedroom and bathroom in rear also on the street.

In the rear of the parlor is a library-room. Next to this is a large bedroom, with bath and dressing room adjoining, and in the rear, an opening on a private hall, are two other bedrooms.

All of the rooms are elegantly furnished, but Mr. Gerlach expects, in event of the rental of the suit of rooms by Mr. Cleveland, to refurbish them in any style to suit the ex-President and his wife.

Among Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland's immediate neighbors in the hotel, shall they determine to make their home there, will be ex-Postmaster General Thomas L. James and family, Postmaster Pearson, President George S. Coe, of the American Express Bank; Rev. Dr. Vermilyea, Mrs. Frank Leslie, Chevalier Sevel and wife, John Bigelow and wife, John Gilsey, of the Gilsey House, Miss Emma Thursby and Mr. R. Henderson, of the Anchor line of steamships.

Not alone Mr. Cleveland, but several members of his cabinet and his private secretary will, it is said, make their home and establish themselves in business in New York.

It is well known that Secretary of the Treasury William Windham, who secured the purpose of making business arrangements which will engross his attention after March 5. He will be the president of a new trust company, of which he is to be president.

Col. Lamont is also provided by rumor with the presidency of a street railway company—the Broadway and Seventh Avenue, it is said.

Of course Secretary of the Navy William C. Whitney will resume his law practice and other business relations in the metropolis.

THE ALDERMEN ON THE STRIKE.

An Investigating Committee Appointed by the Board at To-day's Meeting.

Alderman Clancy, at to-day's meeting of the Board of Aldermen, presented the following preamble and resolutions, after the reading of which from west-side business men making loud sound to take action, and that is what was done. Of course the Board of Aldermen, who are robbing the thing of any credibility it might have had.

"Who is the agent of the Archbishop in Rome?"

"A very efficient exponent of the views of the American Bishops, and one who is frequently employed to attend to their interest in the American O'Connell. He was a priest in Virginia for some years, and understands the status of the Church in the country very thoroughly. He is a brilliant man, who secured the highest honors when he was studying in Rome."

"I think that covers the whole question," said Dr. McDonnell, rising and concluding the interview with another good-natured smile.

Racing for the Carnival Cup.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

MONTREAL, Feb. 5.—The first heat in the ten-mile skating race for the Carnival Cup took place last night in the Dominion Rink. There were five entries. It was won by H. Latremontville.

The Closing Quotations.

	High	Low	Close
Alton & Terre Haute	48	46	48
Chicago & North Western	104	102	104
Chicago & St. Paul	102	100	102
Chicago & Western	102	100	102
Chicago & Erie	102	100	102
Chicago & Milwaukee	102	100	102
Chicago & St. Louis	102	100	102
Chicago & Indianapolis	102	100	102
Chicago & Cincinnati	102	100	102
Chicago & New York	102	100	102
Chicago & Boston	102	100	102
Chicago & Philadelphia	102	100	102
Chicago & Washington	102	100	102
Chicago & San Francisco	102	100	102
Chicago & Portland	102	100	102
Chicago & Seattle	102	100	102
Chicago & Tacoma	102	100	102
Chicago & Vancouver	102	100	102
Chicago & Victoria	102	100	102
Chicago & Nanaimo	102	100	102
Chicago & Port Moody	102	100	102
Chicago & West Vancouver	102	100	102
Chicago & Richmond	102	100	102
Chicago & Delta	102	100	102
Chicago & Fraser Canyon	102	100	102
Chicago & Kamloops	102	100	102
Chicago & Kelowna	102	100	102
Chicago & Vernon	102	100	102
Chicago & Penticton	102	100	102
Chicago & Okanagan Falls	102	100	102
Chicago & Hope	102	100	102
Chicago & Princeton	102	100	102
Chicago & Revelstoke	102	100	102
Chicago & Salmon Arm	102	100	102
Chicago & Kamloops	102	100	102
Chicago & Kelowna	102	100	102
Chicago & Vernon	102	100	102
Chicago & Penticton	102	100	102
Chicago & Okanagan Falls	102	100	102
Chicago & Hope	102	100	102
Chicago & Princeton	102	100	102
Chicago & Revelstoke	102	100	102
Chicago & Salmon Arm	102	100	102

KEPT IN A CELLAR.

Two Hoboken Children Reported as Victims of an Intemperate Father's Cruelty.

The Hoboken police are investigating a case of reported cruelty to children at Fourth and Clinton streets. It was reported to Chief Donohue that a boy and girl had been compelled to sleep in the cellar for the past year, and had been almost starved to death.

The children are Maria, aged seventeen, and John, aged thirteen, and their father, who is named Matthew Ralph. The boy brought home about a fair and honorable adjustment between employers and employees.

The resolution was unanimously adopted, and Aldermen Clancy, Fitzsimons, Walker, Morris and Shira were appointed as the Special Committee under the resolution.

Why She Wants $50,000.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5.—In the suit of Mary R. Flemming for damages for breach of promise of marriage, entered against John J. Patterson, the statement of the cause of the claim was filed yesterday in the office of the Prothonotary. The plaintiff alleges that Mr. Patterson promised to marry her, but that he failed to do so, and that she has suffered loss of honor and respect, and that she is entitled to damages for the same.

The statement of the cause of the claim was filed yesterday in the office of the Prothonotary. The plaintiff alleges that Mr. Patterson promised to marry her, but that he failed to do so, and that she has suffered loss of honor and respect, and that she is entitled to damages for the same.

The statement of the cause of the claim was filed yesterday in the office of the Prothonotary. The plaintiff alleges that Mr. Patterson promised to marry her, but that he failed to do so, and that she has suffered loss of honor and respect, and that she is entitled to damages for the same.

The statement of the cause of the claim was filed yesterday in the office of the Prothonotary. The plaintiff alleges that Mr. Patterson promised to marry her, but that he failed to do so, and that she has suffered loss of honor and respect, and that she is entitled to damages for the same.

The statement of the cause of the claim was filed yesterday in the office of the Prothonotary. The plaintiff alleges that Mr. Patterson promised to marry her, but that he failed to do so, and that she has suffered loss of honor and respect, and that she is entitled to damages for the same.

The statement of the cause of the claim was filed yesterday in the office of the Prothonotary. The plaintiff alleges that Mr. Patterson promised to marry her, but that he failed to do so, and that she has suffered loss of honor and respect, and that she is entitled to damages for the same.

The statement of the cause of the claim was filed yesterday in the office of the Prothonotary. The plaintiff alleges that Mr. Patterson promised to marry her, but that he failed to do so, and that she has suffered loss of honor and respect, and that she is entitled to damages for the same.

The statement of the cause of the claim was filed yesterday in the office of the Prothonotary. The plaintiff alleges that Mr. Patterson promised to marry her, but that he failed to do so, and that she has suffered loss of honor and respect, and that she is entitled to damages for the same.

The statement of the cause of the claim was filed yesterday in the office of the Prothonotary. The plaintiff alleges that Mr. Patterson promised to marry her, but that he failed to do so, and that she has suffered loss of honor and respect, and that she is entitled to damages for the same.

The statement of the cause of the claim was filed yesterday in the office of the Prothonotary. The plaintiff alleges that Mr. Patterson promised to marry her, but that he failed to do so, and that she has suffered loss of honor and respect, and that she is entitled to damages for the same.

The statement of the cause of the claim was filed yesterday in the office of the Prothonotary. The plaintiff alleges that Mr. Patterson promised to marry her, but that he failed to do so, and that she has suffered loss of honor and respect, and that she is entitled to damages for the same.

The statement of the cause of the claim was filed yesterday in the office of the Prothonotary. The plaintiff alleges that Mr. Patterson promised to marry her, but that he failed to do so, and that she has suffered loss of honor and respect, and that she is entitled to damages for the same.

The statement of the cause of the claim was filed yesterday in the office of the Prothonotary. The plaintiff alleges that Mr. Patterson promised to marry her, but that he failed to do so, and that she has suffered loss of honor and respect, and that she is entitled to damages for the same.

The statement of the cause of the claim was filed yesterday in the office of the Prothonotary. The plaintiff alleges that Mr. Patterson promised to marry her, but that he failed to do so, and that she has suffered loss of honor and respect, and that she is entitled to damages for the same.

The statement of the cause of the claim was filed yesterday in the office of the Prothonotary. The plaintiff alleges that Mr. Patterson promised to marry her, but that he failed to do so, and that she has suffered loss of honor and respect, and that she is entitled to damages for the same.

The statement of the cause of the claim was filed yesterday in the office of the Prothonotary. The plaintiff alleges that Mr. Patterson promised to marry her, but that he failed to do so, and that she has suffered loss of honor and respect, and that she is entitled to damages for the same.

The statement of the cause of the claim was filed yesterday in the office of the Prothonotary. The plaintiff alleges that Mr. Patterson promised to marry her, but that he failed to do so, and that she has suffered loss of honor and respect, and that she is entitled to damages for the same.

The statement of the cause of the claim was filed yesterday in the office of the Prothonotary. The plaintiff alleges that Mr. Patterson promised to marry her, but that he failed to do so, and that she has suffered loss of honor and respect, and that she is entitled to damages for the same.

The statement of the cause of the claim was filed yesterday in the office of the Prothonotary. The plaintiff alleges that Mr. Patterson promised to marry her, but that he failed to do so, and that she has suffered loss of honor and respect, and that she is